Jacob Baskiewicz
COM421 Project 1 Self Critique

Throughout the process of creating the website database for project 1 I took several creative choices to make a thorough and accessible website using elements discussed in class. For 1, I made the website attractive and simple with the main intention of delivering the information in an effective and cohesive manner. I also used standard elements such as the header elements, lists, paragraphs, asides, and image insertion to make the website consistent throughout. Given more time on the project I would have attempted to make the navigation have icons established to them to make them more easier to read. I would have also experimented with CSS and including more colors within the website.